The fiancé [MC: during the marriage festival] offers wine to all the close relatives of his wife, and the men of the two families form a real alliance.